

Addressing Substance Use in Mental Health Treatment

April 4, 2018
1 to 3 p.m.
Course Code: T334

Presenters:

Jared Florance, MS, LPC

Clinical Supervisor, Addiction Medicine Services
Center for Psychiatric & Chemical Dependency Services
Western Psychiatric Institute & Clinic of UPMC

Erin Moriarity, LCSW

Clinical Supervisor, Addiction Medicine Services
Center for Psychiatric & Chemical Dependency Services
Western Psychiatric Institute and Clinic of UPMC

Program Description:

This presentation will provide an introductory overview of addiction and recovery along with strategies for mental health clinicians to respond to client substance use efficiently and effectively. First, we will dispel common misconceptions about addiction and recovery. We will then review DSM 5 criteria and evidence-based screening tools to preliminarily identify the severity of substance use. Basic motivational interviewing techniques will be discussed, helping participants build confidence in opening dialogue with clients about their substance use. Finally, we will outline factors indicating the need for specialized substance use/co-occurring treatment, including levels of care and strategies for navigating the referral process.

Educational Objectives:

At the conclusion of this program, participants should be able to:

- Establish familiarity with addiction and the recovery process, including DSM 5 criteria for substance use disorders and evidence-based screening tools.
- Employ basic motivational interviewing skills to open dialogue around substance use.
- Describe symptoms indicating need for specialized substance use/co-occurring treatment and how to make a referral.

Target Audience:

This is an introductory program intended for physicians, psychologists, social workers, nurses, counselors, therapists and other clinicians working in mental health settings.
